

The Martin 404

Aft-facing and forward-facing views in TWA's N40414. Compare its comfortable spacious seats with those in the typical 40-passenger commuter airliners of today! The first three seat-rows were occasionally removed from TWA airplanes for night flights in a 'combi' passenger-cargo mode. TWA flew its Martinliners with one hostess and it was common practice for the co-pilot to assist in the cabin on short legs with a full load of passengers. (courtesy Edward G Betts)

The 40-passenger Eastern and TWA cabin interiors. (Author)